EMPOWERING EDUCATORS: STRENGTH-BASED ASDINPRESCHOOL EDUCATORS' CURRICULUM NOW AVAILABLE

The consortium is thrilled to announce the launch of the Educators' Curriculum, which is freely accessible and downloadable from the project's website! This document is a comprehensive professional development curriculum designed to prepare preschool educators to effectively support young children with Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD) in inclusive early childhood settings.

The curriculum adopts a strengths-based, relationship-centered approach grounded in the support paradigm, emphasizing that autism is a neurodevelopmental difference rather than a deficit to be fixed. It provides educators with evidence-based theoretical knowledge alongside practical strategies for creating accessible, predictable, and emotionally supportive learning environments that enable all children to participate meaningfully in classroom life.

It is available in five languages: English, Greek, Polish, German and Spanish
